

NATURAL BEAUTY
TRANQUILITY
EXCELLENT CLIMATE
PLEASANT AMENITIES

135 hectares (334 acres) of lush tropical forest in the Caribbean province of Limón, Costa Rica. A serene refuge, far from noise, traffic, pollution and city stress. A private enclave with 24 hour security, clear rules to insure tranquility and a clean environment. With just 78 lots between 260 and 470 meters (up to 1542 feet) above sea level, it enjoys an excellent climate.

Its 50 hectares of natural reserve, lagoon and ravine protection areas contain walk paths surrounded by great natural beauty and lush flora and fauna. Among many other species are found butterflies of all kinds, toucans, green macaws, white faced monkeys, little red frogs, raccoons and iguanas. One also finds hummingbirds pollinating numerous heliconia flowers.
